Travel Policy (effective February 2026)

This policy replaces the January 2025 Travel Policy. It covers business travel abroad and domestic travel between Acme offices, for employees and for contractors traveling on Acme's behalf. The per diem rates and hotel caps were raised to reflect higher prices in 2025.

1. Approval and booking

Every trip abroad needs the approval of the department VP before booking. Trips are booked through TripDesk. Bookings made elsewhere are reimbursed only if they were cheaper than the TripDesk offer at the time of booking.

2. Flights

Economy class is the default. On flights longer than 6 hours, all employees may book premium economy. VP-level employees and above may fly business class on flights longer than 8 hours. Book at least 14 days in advance when possible.

3. Hotels

Hotel caps per night: up to $210 in standard cities and up to $300 in high-cost cities (London, New York, San Francisco, Zurich, Paris, Tokyo).

Berlin office visits: employees must stay in the Acme corporate apartment when it is available. When it is not available, the hotel cap in Berlin is 170 EUR per night.

4. Per diem

The per diem covers meals, local transport within the city, and small expenses. It is paid with the salary after the trip, based on the number of days abroad, according to this table:

Destination	Per diem per day
Standard cities	$85
High-cost cities (London, New York, San Francisco, Zurich, Paris, Tokyo)	$110
Berlin office visits	65 EUR

The day of departure and the day of return count as full days when the flight leaves before 12:00 or lands after 18:00 local time; otherwise they count as half days. When meals are provided by a conference or a customer, the per diem for that day is reduced by 30%.

5. Domestic travel

Trips between Tel Aviv and Haifa: the train is preferred. Private car use is reimbursed per the Business Expenses Policy. Overnight stays in Haifa for workshops: up to 650 NIS per night.

6. Insurance and safety

Travel health insurance is purchased centrally by Acme for every approved trip. Travelers to countries on the Security team's high-risk list must request a loaner laptop from IT at least 5 working days before the trip.

7. Summary of changes from 2025

Per diem increased from $75 to $85 in standard cities and from $95 to $110 in high-cost cities. Hotel caps increased from $180 to $210 (standard) and from $260 to $300 (high-cost). Premium economy is new for flights over 6 hours, business class for VPs now starts at 8 hours instead of 10, and Tokyo was added to the high-cost list.
